Claim Objections

Claims 1-3 are objected to because of the following informalities: In claim 1 line 2, "each pivot shaft" lacks proper antecedent basis. In claim 1 line 8, "the inside of said vehicle" lacks proper antecedent basis. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kamikawa (6,679,570) in view of Stevens et al. (4,834,478).

Kamikawa discloses a crawler type traveling apparatus including a final reduction gear 11 with a sprocket and hydraulic motor as shown in figures 1 & 3. Kamikawa however lacks specifying that the track frame rocks around a pivot shaft.

Stevens et al., teaches that it is known in the art for crawler tractors have roller frame assemblies which are pivotally mounted on shafts to accommodate surface irregularities and reduce shock loads (col 1 lines 22-30).

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the device of Kamikawa by having the track frame capable of rocking around a pivot shaft, to accommodate surface irregularities and reduce shock loads as taught by Stevens et al..

Art Unit: 3671

Concerning the limitations regarding the hydraulic passages being arranged in a middle portion of the pivot shaft, such is disclosed as being known in the art (see applicants disclosure (pages 4-5 & figure 6)). This type of arrangement would provide protection to the hydraulic lines. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the device of Kamikawa by using hydraulic passages arranged in a middle portion of the pivot shaft as taught by applicant's disclosure to provide protection to the hydraulic lines.

Conclusion
